June is LGBTQ Pride Month!

Did you know that LGBTQ youth are more likely than their peers to experience negative health and life outcomes? They are at an increased risk for depression and suicide, bullying, substance use, sexual health risks and homelessness. According to the Human Rights Center's 2017 LGBTQ Youth

Survey:

- 77% of LGBTQ teenagers surveyed report feeling depressed or down over the past week
- 95% of LGBTQ youth report trouble sleeping at night
- More than 7 0 % report feelings of worthlessness and hopelessness in the past week
- 6 7 % report that they've heard family members make negative comments about LGBTQ people

Supporting LGBTQ Youth

Healthcare providers have unique opportunity to positively impact the lives and futures of LGBTQ youth by fostering a safe, welcoming environment and providing evidence-based, culturally competent care.

There are tons of resources out there, but here are a few to get you started:

- Physicians for Reproductive Health: LGBTQ Essentials
- Society for Adolescent Health and Medicine (SAHM): LGBTQ Health Clinical Care Resources
- Video: Voices of Transgender Adolescents in Healthcare
- LGBTQIA+ Glossary of Terms
- Genderbread Person v4.0

If you are interested in additional resources and information on supporting and caring for LGBTQ youth, please contact the Adolescent Medicine Team: Ryan H. Pasternak, MD, MPH (rpaste@lsuhsc.edu) or Carleigh Baudoin, MPH (cbaud6@lsuhsc.edu).

Help LSU Psychiatry Studies Impact of COVID-19 Pandemic on Healthcare Providers

LSU Psychiatry under PI Dr. Erich Conrad are asking the LSUHSC community to participate in a survey for their IRB-approved study. The project's goal is to better understand the stress and health consequences for healthcare providers so that in a future viral resurgence, UMC and other hospitals nation-wide can create better resources and support systems for healthcare workers.

Please see more information below and complete the surveyhere.

We want to hear from you!

Anonymously share your experiences about COVID-19 related work stress and coping responses.

Who: Healthcare providers (including but not limited to nurses, physicians, medical assistants) with direct patient care during the COVID-19 pandemic . All Departments eligible. Must be at least 18 years old to participate.

Why: Healthcare providers may face extreme stress during pandemics. We want to know about how you have been managing stress and how you have coped with this substantial stressor.

When: Available now! The survey takes 20-30 minutes.

Your anonymous responses can help improve supports for healthcare workers like yourself. Your experiences matter.

Take the anonymous survey now:

Scan this QR code or go to

https://is.gd/covid19survey_umcno

Your responses will be completely anonymous. This study is in conjunction with the LSU School of Public Health and LSU Psychiatry Department. Contact kbeite@lsuhsc.edu or rwiede@lsuhsc.edu for more information.

Dr. Stuart Chalew has put a helpful list of statistical support resources together for the department:

- Online free modular basic medical stats course through LSU CITI program free to all LSUHSC students, residents, fellows faculty. Register with your LSU CITI user ID and password. Can work through modules at your own pace.
- 2. Formal Stats course through LSU contact Dr. Donald Mercante for info and times.

Resident Class of 2020 Spotlight

The COVID Pandemic has certainly changed many aspects of our daily lives and will affect how we typically celebrate our graduates via a large Hello-Goodbye Ceremony. Each week, leading up to their final days of training, our residency team will highlight the graduating residents. Please join us in celebrating these excellent pediatricians at the departmental level...give them some shout outs in the hallway over the next few weeks! We thank all of our "almost graduates" for three wonderful years of dedication to their patients, their peers, and to LSU Pediatrics/Children's Hospital. You will do GREAT things, and we will miss you all.

Tyler Kingdon, MD

From: Redding, CA College: UC Davis

Medical School: Georgetown

After Graduation: PICU Fellowship, Children's Hospital LA

Talents: I can juggle!

Interesting Fact: I once threw James Harden an alley-oop!

Advice you wished you'd known during residency. Spend as much time as you can with your co-residents at work and outside of work!

Evaluation Highlights: "Tyler impressed everyone on the team with his exceptional caring attitude and positive energy that created an effective dynamic where all team members worked hard yet had a lot of fun caring for some very sick and complex patients. He connected really well with families, and the children loved him. He was sincere, compassionate, and had a great rapport with everyone."

Andrew McKernan, MD

Hometown: Omaha, Nebraska (aka Homeaha)

Undergraduate: (insert joke about Notre Dame football here)

Medical School: University of Nebraska

Plans After Graduation: Allergy/Immunology Fellowship, Tulane

Talent: Memorizing useless sports trivia and collegiate mascots. Also, I'm really good at grilling.

Interesting Fact: The only time I had ever eaten seafood before moving here was in Africa when the only thing I could eat was fish.

Advice you wish you'd know in residency. You're doing amazing!! You know a lot more than you think you do, but it's ok not to know everything. Also, ALWAYS listen to the nurses Evaluation Highlights: "Andrew cares deeply about his patients and works hard to make sure their needs are met. He is intelligent with great medical knowledge but still always looks to expand his knowledge base by reading. But most strikingly he is one of the warmest and most positive residents in our program. He displayed extremely high emotional intelligence during our time together, and I came to see him as a role model for emotional support and sensitivity."

Jamie Yeager, MD

From: I Grew up in Tulsa, Oklahoma, but my family now lives in Knoxville, Tennessee, so that's home.

College: Miami University of Ohio

Medical School: East Tennessee State University

After Graduation: Allergy/Immunology Fellowship, LSU-NO

Talents: Eating ice cream, cleaning, horseback riding, watching new TV shows, online shopping, and I usually re-read Harry Potter once a year.

Interesting Fact: I grew up riding horses and I would love to own a few horses and land one day. Kyle's horribly allergic to them but I'm going into the right field for that.

Advice you wished you'd known during residency. You will actually have a lot of fun. There are definitely stressful times and growing pains, but the good times far outweigh the bad and you'll handle the stress better than you think and grow from it.

Evaluation Highlights: "Jamie is one in a million! She has a terrific work ethic, is always ready to see patients. She maintains poise, composure and a professional attitude even in stressful or difficult situations. She shows up each day with a positive attitude that uplifts the rest of the team."

Grand Rounds

There has been a recent issue with Grand Rounds calendar invitations being sent out erroneously. Please do not try to create a calendar item using any Grand Rounds announcement emails. Instead, go to your calendar and create one manually from there. We think using the email shortcut to a calendar invitation is creating the issue.
