Recent Scholarly Activity

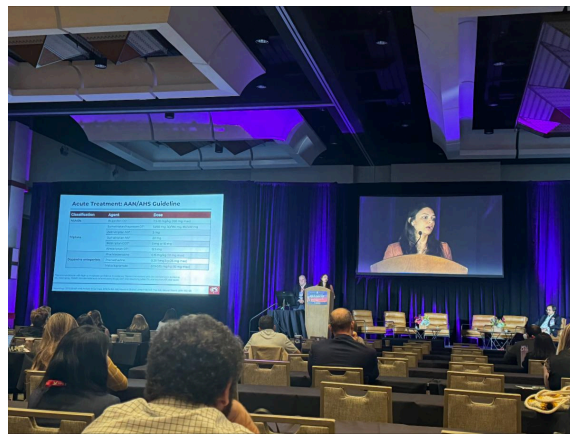

It was a busy week for Child Neurology this week as members of the department attended two national meetings this week with several faculty members and our 5th year resident presenting work!

At the Child Neurology Society Annual Meeting, Dr. Kayla Pence and our graduating resident, Dr. Hiba Elasaar presented a poster along with our Tulane colleague, Dr. Gabriella Tuttrup on a novel gene mutation in a patient with pyridoxine dependent epilepsy.

Dr. Daniella Miller along with Dr. Maria Xiang (who completed her Child Neurology residency with LSU/CHNOLA) also presented a poster of their work on salary and compensation in women neurologists at the meeting.

Dr. Rashmi Rao was a presenter on the care of children with migraine disease at the American Headache Society's Annual Scottsdale Symposium.

Pediatric Interest Group

The Pediatric Interest Group is made up of first- and second-year medical students with an interest in a career in pediatrics. The group is student led and moderated by Dr. Brian Barkemeyer. At this week's meeting, a panel of faculty subspecialists spoke about their careers. Thanks to Drs. Jay Hescocock, Staci Olistter, James Krulisky, Cori Morrison, and Kirk Thame for your interesting and inspiring stories to encourage our future trainees and colleagues!

FACULTY DEVELOPMENT

New video monthly

November Video: Components of a Strong Assessment Statement

In this season of Thanksgiving, I'm thankful for our amazing faculty and our dedication to excellence in education! This is a short (under 7minutes) video that discusses components of a strong assessment statement. Whether you adopt this formula or stick with one of your own, I encourage you to spend time this month coaching your learners on a strong assessment statement to both enhance patient care and medical education.

Neal Jackson, MD, a Louisiana native, is Fellowship-trained and Board-Certified in Neurotology, the subspecialty dealing with hearing and balance disorders. After earning a Medical Doctorate (MD) degree from the University of Texas Health Science Center in San Antonio, Dr. Jackson then completed a 5-year residency training in Otolaryngology at LSU Health Science Center–New Orleans. He then completed a 2-year Fellowship in Neurotology, Otology, and Skull Base Surgery at the Michigan Ear Institute, the largest neurotology practice in the country. Dr. Jackson was recruited to Tulane University in 2018 and in 2019 joined the staff of Children's Hospital New Orleans. Dr. Jackson started the Cochlear Implant Programs at Tulane University Medical Center in 2019 and at the Southeast Veterans Health Care System in 2020. As a skull base surgeon, he frequently works with neurosurgeons for the evaluation and management of skull base tumors and infections. Dr. Jackson has an active role in educating medical students and residents about care of the ear.

Objectives: At the conclusion of this activity, participants should be able to:

- Describe pertinent anatomy of the ear with otoscopy.
- Understand the mechanics of a cochlear implant, and therefore who may benefit.
- Appreciate the commitment a patient makes to the surgical and healing process when opting for a cochlear implant.

Intended audience: This activity is specifically directed towards the pediatrician, but it is open to all other interested physicians, residents, medical students, and allied health professionals.

Accreditation Children's Hospital New Orleans is accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education to provide continuing medical education for physicians.

Designation Children's Hospital New Orleans designates this live activity for a maximum of 1.0 AMA PRA Category 1 Credits™. Physicians should claim only the credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.

CNE statement: Children's Hospital is approved as a provider of nursing continuing professional development by Louisiana State Nurses Association, an accredited approver by the American Nurses Credentialing Center's Commission on Accreditation. Provider #4003155. To receive credit, you must attend the entire program and submit a post program evaluation.

ADA Statement: In compliance with the Americans with Disabilities Act, if special accommodations are needed, place notify Denise Graham at 504-896-9431.
