A Message from the Dean

I want to take this opportunity to personally thank each and every one of you for all that you have done and continue to do for our School. Throughout the years your generosity has allowed us to provide scholarships to attract outstanding students, professorships and chairs to recruit gifted and dedicated faculty, state-of-the art facilities for training our learners, and cutting-edge laboratories for our researchers whose work offers hope to our patients. As you are well-aware the LSU School of Medicine in New Orleans provides the vast majority of physicians for Louisiana. These are the doctors that take care of your family and mine. Now an unprecedented budget crisis looms in our future—one that will severely undermine our ability to train the next generation of physicians for Louisiana. If we are to continue to meet the challenges that lie ahead and train the physicians and scientists of the future it is important that our voices be heard. As our population ages and the chronic disease burden of our patients increases due to our advancements in the treatment of many diseases, society will look to us for answers. We need to be ready.

Sincerely,

Steve Nelson

Committee of 100

The Committee of 100—Champions of Excellence was established in 1983, with Bernard Samuels ('57) & Cy Vaught ('58) as its founding members.

Members of the Committee make a pledge of $10,000 or more to support chairs & professorships.

Regular members pledge $10,000, usually $1,000 a year for ten years. Contributions may be made monthly, quarterly, semiannually, or yearly. Gifts may be through donations of appreciated stock or other assets.

Double Members pledge $20,000.

Life Members pledge $25,000 or more.

Dr. Isidore Cohn, Jr., Emeritus Chairman and Professor of Surgery at the LSU School of Medicine in New Orleans, LA, died on October 14, 2015, after a brief illness at his home in Metairie, LA. He was 94. Raised in New Orleans and named for his father, who was also a prominent surgeon, Dr. Cohn received his MD and DSc degrees from the University of Pennsylvania, subsequently returning to the city of his birth to pursue a career in academic medicine. After joining the LSU School of Medicine faculty in 1952, he succeeded his predecessor, James D. Rives, MD, as chairman of the Department of Surgery in 1962, and continued to hold that position for 27 years, one of the longest tenures in the annals of the profession. Concurrently serving as Surgeon-in-Chief of the LSU Service at Charity Hospital, he was responsible for introducing thousands of medical students to general surgery and directing the training of over 300 surgical residents.

In 1987, in recognition of his mentoring, a group of former surgical residents funded the Isidore Cohn, Jr., Professorship of Surgery, the first million-dollar chair at the LSU School of Medicine. In 2002, former surgical residents and The James D. Rives Surgical Society (subsequently renamed the Isidore Cohn, Jr. – James D. Rives Surgical Society) were the major donors for the Isidore Cohn, Jr., MD, Student Learning Center, a state-of-the-art surgical training facility at LSU School of Medicine.

Though the entirety of his professional career was based in New Orleans, the scope of his influence in the surgical profession extended well beyond Louisiana. He published 358 articles in peer-reviewed medical journals, and served as editor of ten, including The American Surgeon, Cancer, and The American Journal of Surgery. Dr. Cohn served as President of the New Orleans Surgical Society (1967), the Surgical Association of Louisiana (1968), the Southeastern Surgical Congress (1972), the Southeastern Cancer Research Association (1975), and the Southern Surgical Association (1982-1983); and as 1st Vice President of the American College of Surgeons (1993). From 1975 - 1984, he served as director of the National Pancreatic Cancer Project of the National Institutes of Health (at the time, the largest publicly funded research project on the disease).

Dr. Cohn’s interest in and involvement with his beloved New Orleans community was deep and lifelong. He served on the Boards of the Greater New Orleans Convention and Visitors Bureau, the New Orleans Museum of Art, Touro Synagogue, and the Jewish Endowment Foundation. In addition to these charities, he and his wife, Marianne, were significant contributors to the Greater New Orleans Foundation.

The significant honors awarded to Dr. Cohn include the Founder Medal from the Society for Surgery of the Alimentary Tract, the Spirit of Charity award from the Medical Center of Louisiana (2002), an honorary Doctorate of Humane Letters from the University of South Carolina (1995), Outstanding Alumnus from the Isidore Newman School (2003), the Tzedakah Award from the Jewish Endowment Foundation of Louisiana (2009), the Chairman’s Award from the Arts Council of New Orleans (2012), and the Isaac Delgado Award from the New Orleans Museum of Art, Honorary Alumnus, LSU School of Medicine (1989).

His fascination with Steuben glass led Dr. Cohn and his wife to assemble one of the world’s leading collections, culminating in its exhibition at The New Orleans Museum of Art (Crystal Clear, 2004). Chinese Jades from the Collection of Marianne and Isidore Cohn, Jr. was exhibited in 2013-2014.

Preceded in death by his sisters Elise Cohn Rosenthal (Robert) and Babette Cohn Golden (Abe), Dr. Cohn is survived by Marianne, his wife of almost 40 years; children from his first marriage (to the late Jacqueline Heymann), Ian J. Cohn (Vicki) and Lauren Fouros, both of New York, NY; grandchildren Kevin A. Cohn (Karen) and Adrian K. Cohn (partner, Samantha Wolf), also of New York, NY; grandchildren Allison Miller (Josh Murack) of St. Michael, MN, and Jacob Miller of New Orleans, LA; and great-grandchildren Teagan and Alexander Murack Miller. To perpetuate his memory, the family requests donations to support and enhance the Isidore Cohn, Jr., MD, Student Learning Center, c/o the LSU Medical Alumni Association, 2020 Gravier Street, 5th Floor, New Orleans, LA 70112.

To the Alumni Office....
I wanted to thank the Alumni Association for awarding me the Hotel Dieu Medical Staff Scholarship. It is very much appreciated. With the rising cost of our tuition and the need to take out additional student loans each year, it is incredibly beneficial that scholarships such as these are being offered to medical students.
Please pass my thanks on to anyone else involved in this process.

Thank you again,

Trey Schwartzenburg

FROM THE LSU HEALTH FOUNDATION NEW ORLEANS

I am grateful for this opportunity to introduce myself and the LSU Health Foundation New Orleans to you. Many of you already know who we are, as evidenced by the three profiles on the following page. Several medical alumni have either served on our board of directors or are current board members. In 1988, Drs. Bob Daniels and Russell Klein had the vision and foresight to create an institutionally related 501(c)3 to support the LSU Health Sciences Center. That is our single responsibility: to support the LSUHSC and its six schools, eight Centers of Excellence and our shared mission to provide the highest quality education, patient care, research and community outreach programs possible.

We serve the School of Medicine in many ways. Our development team actively collaborates with the School of Medicine and the Medical Alumni Association to seek private gifts for education, patient care, research and community outreach. At the most basic level, we manage more than $108 million in restricted and endowed funds for the school and its faculty. We acknowledge and steward private gifts, provide valuable tax information and above all, assure that all gifts are used as the donor intended.

We are gratified that our work supports such an exceptional school with such a noble mission. We know we could not do it without you, the alumni of the LSU School of Medicine, the bedrock of all our efforts. Thank you for your years of generous support and investment into your alma mater.

Sincerely,
Chad Leingang, CPA

Member of the Visionaries Society

Dr. Hannelore Giles
LSU School of Medicine Class of 1963
Retired Cardiologist living in Hattiesburg, MS

“My late husband and I both attended LSU School of Medicine on scholarship. Out of gratitude, it was always our intent to pay it forward, by paying it back. Now, six years after his death, I am both proud and honored to establish the Drs. William G ’64 & Hannelore H ’63 Giles Scholarship. It is my hope, and that of my late husband, that the recipient of this scholarship will do the same, thus providing deserving and capable students the opportunity to fulfill their career pursuits and receive the best training in the region.”

Member of the Illuminators Society

Dr. Gerald Berenson
LSU School of Medicine Faculty Member, Department of Cardiology, New Orleans, LA
Class of 1945 Tulane School of Medicine graduate, Dr. Gerald Berenson is internationally known and respected for his work on the Bogalusa Heart Study. An LSU School of Medicine faculty member from 1945 – 1991 and again, as of 2015, Dr. Berenson has been a longtime, loyal supporter of the LSU School of Medicine. When recently asked, “What has motivated you to be so generous to the LSU School of Medicine and the Department of Cardiology?” Dr. Berenson simply replied, “You don’t know what LSU has done for me.”

Member of the Investors Society

Dr. Mary Lou Applewhite
LSU School of Medicine Class of 1955
Retired Dermatologist living in Metairie, LA

“For many years after graduating from LSU and LSU School of Medicine, I gave $100 per year. Then, in the late ’80s, the Foundation invited me to become more involved. As a result, I came to realize the importance of philanthropy and its role in taking an institution from good to great. The LSU School of Medicine is lifted immensely by the gift of private funds that help to elevate the education we provide to students, support cutting-edge research, provide top-notch healthcare and support the community through outreach programs.”

Dr. Applewhite is also a generous contributor to the LSU Foundation and is a member of the Laureate Society and the 1860 Society.

Dec ’43
Herbert Derman, Philadelphia, PA – “Just got the reunion issue and am delighted to see the growth and activity of my beloved LSU. It is getting pretty lonely out there, however, for a member of the Class of December ’43. ‘Fond memories that waken in our hearts a tender glow...’ ”

’53
Martha Haley Pope, Baton Rouge, LA – “This new year has brought us a great granddaughter – which is a wonderful gift!! My health is good – Enjoy working two days per week – Caring for my antique roses and singing in my church choir!”

’54
Robert Cangelosi, New Orleans, LA – “Will return to Granada, Nicaragua, to run eye clinic the week of February 27, 2016, with the Sovereign Hospitaller Order of Knights of Malta for my 15th trip.”

Alvin Friedland, Livingston, NJ – “Forever Grateful!”

’56
Quinn Becker, San Antonio, TX – “Had a bad bout with ameloid heart failure but much better now on a study med from Mayo Clinic. Hope to make our reunion.”

James Jackson, Thibodaux, LA – “Looking forward to the reunion in 2016. All you ’56ers please come.”

Alvin Cotlar, Gulfport, MS – “Saddened by the passing of Dr. Cohn on October 14th. I was his first chief resident and will be working on his long-overdue biography. I will be contacting former students, residents and colleagues for input. Dr. Cohn leaves an historic legacy of LSU Surgery. I hope the biography will do justice to his memory.”

Ebola survivor, Dr. Kent Brantley, spoke at banquet in 2015 in Nashville to medical group—Miracle in 2014.

’60

Dan Lucius, Baytown, TX – “I am retiring from my Ob/Gyn practice effective January 1, 2016, after 50+ years in Baytown, Texas.”

This LSU motto is telling — telling in not only how students and fans choose to live life, yet the meaning of this motto runs deeper, perhaps deeper than even the author of the motto intended. It tells of a way of life. Living and loving. A choice each of us makes each day. A dedication.

When one is dedicated, one is devoted to special use, duty or purpose. Therein lies the description of my father, and of Tiger fans everywhere. The comparison is natural and necessary. I know of no other truer dedication than that of my father to his life’s calling. And is it imaginable to know of any other real dedication than that of Tiger fans? Such a dedication is indeed golden. This dedication is tried and true, to be honored and revered. It does not wane; it never wanders. I give you the description of my father.

My father, Alfred Daniel Lucius, Jr. (’61), embodies our motto, Live Purple, Love Gold. It is a given that he loves his Tigers, yet if degrees of love are possible, he holds and lives a greater love, that of a love for his work. Louisiana State University Medical School afforded my father the opportunity to exemplify this love. This is his golden year; fifty years of taking care of patients and of bringing new life into this world through his specialty of obstetrics and gynecology, learned through seeds planted by his mentors and professors at LSU Medical School. He completed his medical school in New Orleans, then his residency in Shreveport. He continues to inspire colleagues, patients, and his family. He is now delivering a fourth generation. For his patients, there is no substitute. There is also no substitute for the experience, expertise, knowledge, insight, discernment, value of human life, perspective, conviction and foundation from which my father operates daily. LSU Medical School can not only value, but lift up such alumni and alumnae as lights, as models, protocol, if you will, for its future graduates. Is there no better embodiment of our motto, Live Purple, Love Gold?

Dear All,

Greetings on behalf of the Medical Alumni Office. It's been another great year at the School of Medicine. The number and quality of medical school applicants continue to increase every year. Our graduates are as competitive and well-prepared as ever and match at premier institutions for residencies (including LSU programs, of course).

We are now preparing for Reunion Weekend, which will be held at our usual location, the New Orleans Riverside Hilton on Friday, June 3 and Saturday, June 4, 2016. This year we are recognizing the classes of: ’51, ’55, ’56, ’61, ’62, ’66, ’71, ’76, ’81, ’86, ’91, ’96, ’01 and ’06.

Our 11th Annual Purple and Gold Gala is scheduled for Saturday, November 12, 2016, and will be held for the first time at the World War II Pavilion. Save the date as we also celebrate the 85th Anniversary of the founding of the LSU-New Orleans School of Medicine. The Gala is a great event and a good reason to spend a weekend in New Orleans with family and friends.

Thanks, as always, for your support of our Alma Mater. Please call or stop by this office when you are in New Orleans. I would love to show you around our campus.

Sincerely,

Cathi Fontenot (84)
Associate Dean
for Alumni Affairs and Development
