

Women's Health Research Consortium

Faculty Leaders

- Dr. Amelia Jernigan
- Dr. Stacey Scheib
- Dr. Judy Crabtree
- Dr. Andrew Chapple

Current Board Members

Senior Advisors (L4)

- Amber Bardarson
- Caitlyn Gallaspy

Committee Chairs (L3)

- Katherine Copenhaver
- Kelsey Goynes
- Gabriella Walker

Chairs-Elect (L2)

- Anna LeJeune
- Ngan Tran

Questions?

Feel free to email us at whrc@lsuhsc.edu or check out our website for more information at www.medschool.lsuhs.edu/LSUWHRC/

- Interested in a future career in women's health?
- Interested in getting involved with a research project to further your education and add to your resume?

Mission

The Women's Health Research Consortium (WHRC) strives to create a collaborative venue between medical students, residents, and faculty to promote production of research projects. The consortium will provide the information needed to guide medical students as they choose, start, and complete high quality research in the field of women's health.

Membership Details

- Members are required to attend quarterly consortium meetings to briefly discuss current projects and review essential topics in conducting research such as how to pick a research topic, how to create an abstract and a poster, and how to design the study.
- THERE ARE NO MEMBERSHIP DUES!

Sample Research Topics

- Obstetrics
- Gynecology
- Urogynecology
- Gynecologic Oncology
- Postpartum Care
- Quality Improvement
- Medical Education Studies

Other Opportunities

- Journal club
- Mentorship
- Information about conferences and submission deadlines